ARMISTICE TERMS RENDER DUAL MONARCHY POWERLESS

By Terms of Armistice Which Ended Hostilities at 3 O'clock This Afternoon Her Armies Are Put on Peace Footing and Navy Comes Under Allied Control--Evacuation of Invaded Territory and Delivery of Military Equipment to Allies Involved.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Austria-Hungary has been absolutely disarmed by the Allies. Her armies have been reduced to their pre-war basis. Her navy is rendered powerless, while fifteen of her modern submarines, together with the most formidable part of her fleet, are put under the United States and the Allies. She is compelled to surrender all prisoners of war without reciprocity.

From the position of a strong and powerful enemy, the dual empire, by the terms of the armistice which went into effect today, is transformed into a disarmed nation powerless to renew the struggle even should she so desire.

These terms were made public this afternoon by the state department. In every way they provide for complete and absolute surrender. The Austrian armies on the western front must be withdrawn and demobilized. Those within the nation must be reduced to their pre-war status. All German troops must leave Austria-Hungary within fifteen days or be interned. The Allies can use all means of transportation, rail, water or highways and occupy such strategical positions they consider necessary. The defeated armies immediately must abandon to the Allied forces all war materials now on occupied territory, including coal. The fifteen submarines taken are the newest of the fleet and all others are to be disarmed and dismantled. In addition the United States and the Allied navies will take over three battleships, twelve torpedo boats, one mine layer and six Danube monitors, while the remainder of the navy is to be concentrated at a designated point under Allied guard. The Danube fortifications are to be dismantled, all aircraft concentrated, and the Pola docks and arsenals surrendered to the Allies:

The complete text of the armistice agreement as made public here is as follows:

One—The immediate cessation of hostilities by land, sea and air.

Two—Total demobilization of the Austro-Hungarian army and immediate withdrawal of all Austro-Hungarian forces operating on the front from the North sea to Switzerland.

Within Austro-Hungarian territory, limited as in Clause Three below, there shall only be maintained as an organized military force (?) reduced to pre-war effectives.

"Half the divisional, corps and army artillery and equipment shall be collected at points to be indicated by the Allies and United States of America for delivery to them, beginning with all such material as exists in the territories to be evacuated by the Austro-Hungarian forces.

"Three—Evacuation of all territories invaded by Austro-Hungary since the beginning of the war. Withdrawal within such periods as shall be determined by the commander-in-chief of the Allied forces on each front of the Austro-Hungarian armies behind a line fixed as follows: From Pic Umbrail to the north of the Stelvio; to follow the crest of Rhetin Alps up to the sources of the Adige and the Eisach, passing thence by Mounts Reschen and Brenner and the heights of Oetz and Zoaller. The line thence turns south crossing Mount Toblach and meeting the present frontier Carnic Alps. It follows this frontier up to Mount Tarvis and after Mount Tarvis the watershed of the Julian Alps by the Col of Predil, Mount Mangart, the Tricono (Terglou) and the watershed of the Cols di Poberdo, Podlaniscam and Idria. From this point the line turns southeast towards the Schneeberg, excludes the whole basin of the Save and its tributaries. From Schneeberg it goes down towards the coast in such a way as to include Castua and Volosca in the evacuated territories.

"It will also follow the administrative limits of the present province of Dalmatia, including to the north Lisarica and Tribania and to the south, territory limited by a line from the (Semigrand?) of Cape Planca to the summits of the watershed eastwards, so as to include in the evacuated area all the valleys and water course flowing towards Sebenico, such as the Cicola, Kerka, Butisnica and their tributaries. It will also include all the islands in the north and west of Dalmatia from Premuda, Selve, Ulbo, Scherda, Maon, Pago and Puntadura in the north up to Meleda in the south embracing Santandrea, Busi, Lissa, Lesina, Tercola, Curzola, Cazza and Lagosta, as well as the neighboring rocks and islets and passages, only excepting the islands of great and small Zirona, Bua, Solta and Brazza. All territory thus evacuated (shall be occupied by the forces?) of the Allies and of the United States of America.

"All military and railway equipment of all kinds, including coal belonging to or within those territories (to be?) left in site and surrendered to the Allies according to special orders given by the commander-in-chief of the forces of the associated powers on the different fronts. No new destruction, pillage or requisition to be done by enemy troops in the territories to be evacuated by them and occupied by the forces of the associated powers.

"Four—The Allies shall have the right of free movement over all road and rail and waterways in Austro-Hungarian territory and of the use of the necessary Austrian and Hungarian means of transportation. The armies of the associated powers shall occupy such strategic points in Austria-Hungary at times as they may deem necessary to enable them to conduct military operations or to maintain order.

"They shall have the right of requisition on payment for the troops of the associated powers (wherever?) they may be.

"Five—Complete evacuation of all German troops within fifteen days not only from the Italian and Balkan fronts but from all Austro-Hungarian territory.

"Internment of all German troops which have not left Austria-Hungary within the date.

"Six—The administration of the evacuated territories of Austria-Hungary will be entrusted to the local authorities under the control of the Allies and associated armies of occupation.

"Seven—The immediate repatriation without reciprocity of all Allied prisoners of war and interned subjects and of civil populations evacuated from their homes on conditions to be laid down by the commander-in-chief of the forces of the associated powers on the various fronts. Sick and wounded who cannot be removed from evacuated territory will be cared for by Austria-Hungary personnel who will be left on the spot with the medical material required.

Naval Conditions.

"One—Immediate cessation of all hostilities at sea and definite information to be given as to the location and movements of all Austro-Hungarian ships.

"Notification to be made to neutrals that freedom of navigation in all territorial waters is given to the naval and mercantile marine of the Allied and associated powers, all questions of neutrality being waived.

"Two—Surrender to Allies and the United States of fifteen Austro-Hungarian submarines completed between the years 1910 and 1918 and of all German submarines which are in or may hereafter enter Austro-Hungarian territorial waters. All other Austro-Hungarian submarines to be paid off and completely disarmed and to remain under the supervision of the Allies and United States.

"Three—Surrender to Allies and United States with their complete armament and equipment of three battleships, three light cruiser, nine destroyers, twelve torpedo boats, one mine layer, six Danube monitors to be designated by the Allies and United States of America. All other surface warships, including river craft, are to be concentrated in Austro-Hungarian naval bases to be designated by the Allies and United States of America and are to be paid off and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the Allies and the United States of America.

"Four—Freedom of navigation to all warships and merchant ships of Allied and associated powers to be given in the Adriatic and up the River Danube and its tributaries in the territorial waters and territory of Austria-Hungary.

"The Allies and associated powers shall have the right to sweep up all mine fields and obstructions and the positions of these are to be indicated.

"In order to insure the freedom of navigation on the Danube the Allies and the United States of America shall be empowered to occupy or to dismantle all fortifications for defense works.

"Five—The existing blockade conditions set up by the Allied and associated powers are to remain unchanged and all Austro-Hungarian merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture save exceptions which may be made by a commission nominated by the Allies and the United States of America.

"Six—All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and impounded in places to be designated by the Allies and the United States of America.

"Seven—Evacuation of all Italian coasts and of all ports occupied by Austria-Hungary outside their national territory and the abandonment of all floating craft, naval materials, equipment and materials for inland navigation of all kinds.

"Eight—Occupation by the Allies and the United States of America of the land and sea fortifications and the islands which form the defenses and of the dock yards and arsenal at Pola.

"Nine—All merchant vessels held by Austria-Hungary belonging to the Allies and associated powers to be returned.

"Ten—No destruction of ships or of materials to be permitted before evacuation, surrender or restoration.

"Eleven—All naval and mercantile marine prisoners of the Allied and associated powers in Austro-Hungarian hands, to be returned without reciprocity."

COMPLEX PROBLEMS CONFRONT VOTERS

Conceded that Democrats Will Retain Control of Senate—Both Sides Uncertain About Other Results.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 4.—With the last word practically said the political managers of the big political parties today were devoting their attention to the problem of "getting out the vote" for tomorrow's election. It is conceded that never in the history of the nation have the problems confronting the voters been so complex. The resut is that, while the Democrats and Republicans are claiming successes in public, privately they say that they do not know what to expect.

The voters tomorrow will elect the entire membership of the house. United States senators will be elected in thirty-three states. Governors will be elected in thirty-one states. In addition there will be election of minor state officials in other states, while in Louisiana, Michigan and Oklahoma, suffrage will be an issue.

Indications today were that the result of the election will be close. It seems impossible for the Republicans to regain control of the United States senate. The Democrats have a majority of eight in that body.

The fight for control of the house is very bitter. The Democratic managers declared today that all of their advances indicated that the swing was towards them. They insisted that the people will give President Wilson what he asked for—a friendly congress. On the other hand, the Republican leaders declared that the president's "interference" has solidified the ranks and that they are certain to win.

COST PETER $5 FOR DROPPING KITTENS

Sunday evening Officer James J. Simpson saw Peter Charcalis, 18 years old, drop a muslin bag on John street, near Crown street. The officer investigated and found that the bag contained four little kittens. He immediately placed Peter under arrest on a charge of cruelty to animals and saw to it that Peter returned the kittens to the mother cat. Officer Simpson asked Peter what was the reason for dropping the kittens and Peter replied that his boss, Tony Nekos, had told him to take them out and drop them on a side street.

This morning in police court Peter pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Schirick imposed a fine of $5, which Peter paid.

HARRY CARNWRIGHT WOUNDED IN ACTION

Private Harry Carnwright of Company E, 107th Infantry, was wounded in action in France, and is now in a base hospital in England, recovering from his wounds. His sister, Mrs. Daniel Haines, of No. 196 Hurley avenue, has received a letter from her brother telling of his being wounded and not to worry as he was improving. Private Carnwright was well known in this city, and his many friends will be glad to learn that he is reocvering from his wounds. His picture will be printed later.

PRIVATE CURTIS DIED OF DISEASE

Private James Curtis, of Creek Locks, is reported in today's casualty lists issued by the war department as died of disease. Private Curtis was a very popular young man and his many friends will be sorry to learn of his death. His next of kin as given in the casualty list is Mrs. Eliza Curtis.

CARSON DEAD IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Was in Crash at Corner of Albany and Clinton Avenues Which Also Resulted in Injury of Louis Sapp and Robert Freer.

Henry Carson, steward at the Elks Club is dead. Louis Sapp, a formere steward at the club, now of Moran and Sapp, proprietors of the Wall Street Hotel, opposite the court house, is quite badly hurt and Robert Freer, who conducts a cafe at 535 Broadway, is injured somewhat, the result of an automobile accident in this city shortly after midnight, last night. Mr. Carson is a son of Elmer Carson of 78 North Front street. He was a popular young man with many friends and had only recovered from a serious illness with the influenza with which he had been attacked about three weeks ago.

Sapp and Carson were at the Hotel Ulster at midnight and were about to start uptown, the former to go to the Elks' Club to go on duty, and the latter to the Wall Street Hotel, when Freer who owns a Dodge automobile said he would take them up in his car. The automobile was going at a great speed according to Patrolman Soper who witnessed the accident at the corner of Albany avenue, Clinton avenue and Pearl street, who states that after making the turn at the right side of the iron street standard it crashed into a tree on Clinton avenue near the undertaking parlors of A. Carr and Son at the corner. The car hit the tree with such force it was turned completely around. Sapp was thrown into the gutter on the opposite side of the street. Carson was hurled into the air and landed in the middle of the road and Freer remained in the auto. Arthur Carr also saw the accident and says the car when it came down Albany avenue and crossed Clinton avenue was going very fast.

Officer Soper rang up police headquarters from the signal box on the corner and summoned the city ambulance which arrived very quickly. Carson was picked up unconscious and taken to the hospital, where he died about 1 a. m. Dr. A. A. Stern, who made an examination of the injured man, says the skull was crushed in a horrible manner. Sapp was found to have a deep scalp wound and badly bruised about the arms and body and today suffers from internal pains. Five stitches were necessary to close the scalp wound. He was taken to his home at 168 Hasbrouck avenue later. Freer also was allowed to go home after a wound in his head had been sewed up at the hospital.

The impact was so hard a hole an inch deep was made in the maple tree and it ripped off considerable bark. The right side of the car was crushed in and the rear door and top torn off. The right rear wheel torn off and smashed and the tire, still inflated, was found across the road in front of Brown & Dressel's plumbing shop.

Coroner Kelly, who was notified, turned the body over to Undertaker W. N. Conner of Fair street, where an investigation of the cause for the accident will be made by the coroner.

PREDICTS SWEEPING G. O. P. VICTORY

George A. Glynn, chairman of the Republican State Committee gave out the following forecast on next Tuesday's election:

"Reports received from all parts of the state foreshadow the election of Governor Whitman and all candidates on the Republican state ticket by pluralities of 200,000 or more.

"There are in round figures a quarter of a million more enrolled Republicans than Democrats in the state.

"Women affiliated with the Republican party in larger numbers than with the Democrats

"The increases in registration were much heavier in Republican districts than in Democratic.

"A conservative estimate of the manner in which the women outside of New York city will divide gives seventy-five per cent of that vote to the Republican candidate.

"In 1914, the counties of Albany, Erie, Onondaga and Westchester offset the Democratic plurality in New York city

"In 1916, the counties of Albany Erie, Onondaga and Westechester offset the Democratic plurality in New York city.

"In 1917, with only one state candidate running, the counties of Albany, Chautauqua, Erie, Monroe, Oneida, Onondaga and Westchester offset the Democratic vote below the Bronx. These latter counties will give as large an aggregate majority for the Republican ticket this year as Greater New York can give for the Democratic.

"The up-state Republican enrollment exceeds the Democratic enrollment by 470,000 so that, taking the enrolment up-state as a basis the Republican candidates will come down to the Bronx with a plurality of 525,000.

"In 1917, with only men voting, Republicans up-state lacked only 3,000 of casting two votes to the Democrats' one. With women voting the up-state Republican percentage will be greater.

"Records and figures are a basis for predictions when the dominant party is harmonious. There never was a time when the Republicans were working in greater harmony, when their organization was more efficient and when more zeal and activity were manifested by all hands than in the present campaign.

"The Democrats could not win on their own estimate of Greater New York which, at all times has been overstated.

"I am confident that the Republicans will elect thirty members of congress, that we will gain members of assembly up-state and in Greater New York, that we will hold every up-state senate district that we now have and will gain at least one, possibly two, in New York city.

TO KNOW GERMAN TERMS TOMORROW

Believed in Washington World Will Hear Armistice Terms Then Placing Germans in Same Position as Austria.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Germany already knows what she must do to get an armistice and peace. The terms under which Austria-Hungary was eliminated from the war today are before the German war cabinet and the high military command. These terms, which will be made public at one o'clock this afternoon in the United States, absolutely rob Austria of her military potency. They were designed to protect the Allies in every way. And it is only fair to assume that they also were designed to let Germany know that she cannot have a negotiated peace.

Advices reaching here before noon indicated that the Austrian officials had communicated a copy of the terms to Berlin as soon as they were signed.

Officials here today refused point blank to admit whether the actual armistice terms which Germany asked for through President Wilson have been sent forward. There is no doubt that they have been completed and that they are in the nature of compelling an unconditional surrender of Germany to the Allies.

In diplomatic and official quarters today there was a growing belief that the German armistice terms will be forthcoming tomorrow. Officials would not explain on what they based this belief. But it was entertained by men who usually know all that is going on everywhere.

It likewise was considered certain that Germany will accept the terms. Diplomatic advices indicate that the military authorities in Germany have practically thrown up the sponge while the big business interests are openly declaring that all that now can be done is "to bow to the inevitable."

GERMAN ARMIES IN CRITICAL POSITION

Great Part of Main Army on West Front in Danger of Capture as Allies Gain North and South--Austrian Defeat Greatest in History.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The situation of the German armies on the western front today was most critical unless the military commanders are able to extricate their sorely pressed armies from their predicament.

The smashing advance of the Franco-American troops on the south, taken in conjunction with the sweep of the British-Belgian forces on the north, has rendered the German position so precarious that the greater part of the main army is in danger of capture. This development led today to military experts expressing the hope that the Versailles conference "will take a few more days" in compiling their armistice guarantee terms. If they do, these fighting experts said, it may not be necessary to furnish these terms.

However, the almost unanimous opinion here today was that the actual end of the war was only a question of days, possibly hours. Austria went out of the war at three o'clock this afternoon—about nine o'clock Washington time—and with her went the last hope that Germany could have had of carrying on a defensive warfare. The German frontier was, by Austria's action, more than doubled in a moment. And already she has been unable to mass sufficient forces on the west to withstand the successful drive of the Allied troops. Much of Germany's food supply, practically all of her oils and gasoline and a goodly percentage of her munitions went with the collapse of Austria as for the last six months the entire output of the great Austria plants has been sent into Germany.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The Austrian defeat on the Trentino, the valleys of Cadora as well as in the plains beyond the Tagliamento, has reached the proportions unequalled in the whole history of military tragedies, says a dispatch to the Italian embassy this afternoon. The enemy cannot ward off destruction, as the Italian cavalry has trapped him, the dispatch adds.

Today's dispatch further says that the Austro-Hungarian troops are utterly broken in morale and are throwing down their arms and bolting, paying no heed to their officers' entreaties to preserve the line intact.

The occupation of Trieste began yesterday at 3 a. m., the dispatch says. Mine sweepers gathered all the mines that protected the entrance to the harbor and a naval battalion followed by Bersaglieri disembarked.

Italian troops have landed at Sara, in Dalmatia, but details are not yet available, the dispatch says.

London, Nov. 4—(1 p. m.).—The Third and Fourth British armies began a new attack over a wide front between St. Saulve and Oisy (on both sides of the Mormal forest) and have advanced to the Aunell river.

The French attacked on both sides of Guise, in an encircling movement, and forced passages of the Sambe-Oise canal.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The American First army, in a continued attack west of the Meuse, has captured twenty villages, General Pershing reported to the war department today in his communique for Sunday.

MRS. RUSSELL SAGE DIED EARLY TODAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Russell Sage, one of America's greatest philanthropists, died early today at her Fifth avenue home after three days' illness from a complication of diseases due to old age. She was 90 years old.

Since the death of her husband, one of the country's most picturesque capitalists, in 1906, Mrs. Sage spent her time distributing the great fortune left in her hands. She was reputed to be the richest woman in the world, her husband having left her $75,000,000. It is estimated she has given away $30,000,000.

The death of Mrs. Sage was not unexpected. She had been in poor health for several years. Three days ago her condition became serious.

Mrs. Sage, as Margaret Olivia Slocum, traced her ancestry to Captain Miles Standish on her father's side, and to Colonel Henry Pierson, founder of the public school system in America in 1787, on her mother's side. She was born in Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Sage will probably be buried at Syracuse, her birthplace, it was learned today.

Five Died in Family.

David McSherry, foreman of the Nitro Powder Works, has the sympathy of all the employes. In the last week he has lost three brothers and two sisters, as follows: Frank McSherry, Patrick McSherry, Edward McSherry and Mrs. H. Miller of Phoenicia and Mrs. Edward Connor of Kingston.

ZELIFF KILLED BY OWN GUN

Former Employe of Forsyth and Davis Victim of Hunting Accident Near Allaben.

The first fatality to a hunter this season which opened Friday for deer in this section occurred Sunday. The victim was G. Righter Zeliff, of 161 Bruyn avenue, this city, and carelessness, the same old story, is given as the cause for his tragic death. Mr. Zeliff was employed for some time by Forsyth and Davis in their picture framing department.

Sunday with Roger Norwood of Norwich, N. Y., and Mr. Rappalyea of Walden, Zeliff started on a hunting trip to the Catskills. On Sunday while in the woods near Allaben the accident happened, it being about 9 o'clock. The story is that Mr. Zeliff was trailing his shotgun behind him when it was discharged and the contents of the barrel entered his head behind the right ear and nearly all of the top of the head was torn off, he dying soon after. The remains were placed in charge of H. Lee Breithaupt, the undertaker at Phoenicia, by Coroner E. A. Kelly of this city, and last night brought to Kingston by A. Carr and Son, the undertakers.

Deceased is survived by his wife who before marriage was Miss Eva Buley, daughter of Peter Buley, and by two children, a son and a daughter. Mr. Zeliff was a member of Wiltwyck Hose Company.

WAR CHEST IS PEACE NECESSITY

Even if War Ends Soon Work Among Soldiers Will be Needed—Committee Meeting Today.

Ulster County War Chest Campaign today turns a corner and goes into its second week. The board of directors and executive committee will meet this afternoon at which time reports for the first week will be presented and final plans for this week's activities will be made.

The second week opens with a campaign organization covering every ward in the city of Kingston and every election district in Ulster county practically completed. The activities this week will be directed toward the presentation to the people of Kingston and Ulster county of the nature and business-like organization of the war chest plan, which is to end for one year all campaigns except investment and membership campaigns. The pressing needs of the national and local organizations, which are to receive funds from this war chest, will be set forth.

The extent to which these needs must continue for at least one and possibly two years after the close of actual fighting, is one point which is to be brought home. The scrapping of the vast war machinery which America has constructed will cover a period hardly shorter than that required for the construction itself. The attention given to the welfare and happiness of our soldiers and sailors must not be lessened one whit during this time.

The war chest is for war—the war chest is for peace, which will follow Germany's unconditional surrender.

17 NEW CASES OF "FLU" REPORTED

Saturday seventeen new cases of influenza and pneumonia were reported to the health board. Over 7,500 cases have been reported since the epidemic started and it is believed that before the epidemic finally wanes that there will have been over 8,000 cases reported in Kingston by physicians, which is not counting the many cases not attended by a physician as it had been impossible to secure one when the epidemic was raging.

Hopes are held out that the epidemic will have waned sufficiently by Wednesday when the health board meets to allow the churches to reopen on Sunday. Just what action the board takes that day will rest entirely upon the majority report of the city physicians who are in a position to know whether the epidemic has been checked or not.

STATEMENT OF

Congressman Charles B. Ward

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 27TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, COMPRISING THE COUNTIES OF COLUMBIA, SCHOHARIE, GREENE, ULSTER AND SULLIVAN.

In my appeal for your support on Election Day, November 5th, I wish to call your attention to the fact that I have supported all the President's war measures since the Declaration of War against the Imperial Geman Government, and also supported all preparedness measures prior to the Declaration of War.

I am for victory and lots of it. It is my belief that the only issue before the American people this coming election is "TO WIN THE WAR." The great and only concern of the American people at this moment is the welfare and protection of our gallant young heroes who on the bloody battlefields of France are fighting to maintain and uphold the honor and integrity of the American Flag. As in the past, I shall in the future continue to support all legislation that has for its object, either directly or indirectly, the speedy and conclusive winning of the war, and will do all in my power toward hastening the return of our victorious soldier and sailor boys to their homes and families.

If you have a relative or friend in the military or naval service of our Country, and you desire any information as to the soldier's or sailor's location or welfare, or if you desire assistance in matters connected with allotments, allowances, insurance, compensation, etc., I assure you of my willingness at all times to render such service for yourself, relatives or friends.

Assuring you of my genuine appreciation for your vote on Election Day should you so honor me, I am,

Faithfully yours,

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears Politics Discussed, and General Opinion Says It Will Be Republican Victory—Epidemic on Wane But Take No Chances.

"Well, tomorrow we exercise our privilege as an American citizen and vote for those who are to head our government," remarked the busy barber, stropping a razor, "and from all indications Governor Whitman and those from Ulster county who are running on the ticket are going to be elected."

"Then you think it will be a Republican sweep in Ulster county?" asked the customer.

"I am telling you straight," replied the barber, "that general opinion seems to be in favor of the whole Republican ticket. As for me I have always been an independent."

"What do you mean by that?" queried the customer.

"I never enrolled with any party," confided the barber, "for I thought it might hurt business, and when I went to the polls I always voted for the men I thought best fitted for the office. Now look at the Republican ticket this year. Every man on it has made a record that no man need be ashamed of. We know how they stand on the war question and every other question of public welfare, and it is up to us voters to put them across."

"Evidently you are going to vote the straight Republican ticket then," said the customer.

"I'll tell the world fair, that is my intention," replied the barber.

"What do you think of the epidemic in the city. Do you think it is on the wane?" asked the customer

"I sure do," replied the barber, "but just the same I advise you not to take any chances."

THE STROLLER.

SAVE FUEL

USE KINGSTONIAN ADJUSTABLE CEILING VENTILATORS.

With their use the surplus heat from the lower rooms is utilized and carried to the rooms above, saving the cost and inconvenience of a heating stove or in the case of homes warmed with furnaces, the expense of installing wall pipes to the upper rooms.

Each ventilator or register is complete in itself, consisting of a floor register with valves, a ceiling plate, and a sheet metal box which adjusts from 7 to 12 inches, connecting the two, spiral springs holding all in position.

It is ready to install when received by the purchaser and will fit all ordinary ceilings.

PROGRESS OF OPERATIONS WESTERN BATTLE FRONT

American troops of the First Army begun a powerful drive Friday morning on a wide front southeast of Buzancy (A) and have made good progress. First reports announce the capture of twelve villages and more than 3,000 prisoners.

The Americans passed Imecourt, Bayonville, Audevanne, Clery-le-Grand and the Lgoes Wood. They are now less than three miles from Buzancy. On the left of this drive, the French and Americans moved forward in the Attigny sector, in Champagne.

In northern France, the British and French have captured Valenciennes, one of the most vital German bases in that region.

In Belgium, the British and French have gained four miles in two days, crossing the Scheldt in force south of Audenarde. Marshal Haig announces 1,500 prisoners in this operation, which continues successfully.

VOTE RIGHT TOMORROW

Democratic leaders were thrown into consternation when President Wilson issued his letter saying in substance that he desired to be dictator of this country and asking the people, to that end, to elect a Democratic Congress. These leaders viewed with alarm the storm of popular indignation over such abuse of the Presidential office and cast about for some excuse or justification. Finally they discovered that in 1898 McKinley and Roosevelt asked the country to elect a Republican Congress to settle up the remaining details of the Spanish war. Since this point has been made it is well to state the facts. The Spanish war was a little war, but at its end it became necessary to issue bonds amounting to $600,000,000. For this necessary measure only six Democratic votes were cast, and these six patriots were read out of the party by Champ Clark and Senator Jim Ham Lewis. Under such circumstances it was the absolute duty of McKinley and Roosevelt to ask for a Republican Congress, so that the United States might not be prevented from meeting its honorable obligations. It is childish to cite this fact as a justification for Wilson in demanding the defeat of Republican Congressmen who are admitted by himself to be "unquestionably pro-war." Wilson did not write his note to help the country. He did it to help himself.

The next most important issue to be decided tomorrow is whether Governor Whitman and his six associates on the State ticket are to be elected, or whether the control of this State is to be turned over to Tammany's pet, "Al" Smith, and other disciples of Charley Murphy. Inseparable from this is the question of control of the Legislature. The exploits of Dix, Sulzer and Glynn are too recent to be forgotten by the voters, and the latter also know that the Whitman administration has been able and clean. Shall we discharge ideal public servants and take a chance on the assertion that the Tiger has lost his claws, teeth and appetite. Hardly.

The purely local candidates to be voted for in Ulster County are all good men and have conducted clean campaigns. In our opinion the Republican candidates average higher in fitness and ability than their Democratic opponents, and during the campaign we have presented what appeal to us as convincing reasons for this preference. Furthermore, it should be remembered that the national need of strengthening the Republican party makes specially important at this time the election of Republicans to all offices. A vote for every Republican candidate on the ballot will be conducive to a comfortable conscience.

MONARCHIES IN NAME ONLY.

Recent report indicated that, rather than "desert his sorely tried people," the Kaiser would even condescend to become "a hereditary President like the Kings of England, Belgium and Italy." In other words, though hitherto a bombastic representative of the medieval notion of the "divine right" of monarchs, the Kaiser is not ready to stick to his guns at all costs, like the proud old fellows of the past, but is willing to climb down meekly from his perch in order to keep a grip on his job and its big salary. Whether this report correctly interpreted his state of mind at the time or not, the announcement is chiefly interesting as calling attention to the forms of government actually existing in the three Allied countries named.

The King of England exercises his purely theoretical powers through a responsible ministry, selected from the members of the political party which has a majority in the House of Commons. In Belgium every act of the King must be countersigned by a minister responsible to the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies. Italy's King cannot veto a bill passed by Parliament and his Cabinet is directly responsible to the Chamber of Deputies. America and France are not the only free countries engaged in the war on the Huns. The Kings of the three named above are figurehead rulers who receive popular support because of the dignity which royal state is supposed to impart to government. In all true essentials, England, Belgium and Italy are monarchies in name only, the people through their elected representatives exercising the real power.

If this year's apple crop is a million and a half barrels larger than that of 1917, as stated, why is the price demanded for this indispensable fruit so high. The supply is not cut down by export to Europe, for we have not undertaken to furnish our Allies with apples as well as with wheat, meat, etc. The usual excuse of the profiteer is absent, but the usual over charge is none the less present.

In two instances lately a battalion of eager Americans rushed far ahead, was surrounded by Germans, and in each case defended itself for several days until rescued. Such a rash tendency needs to be curbed, of course, but so good a fault sets an inspiring example.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"It's bad enough," said Uncle Eben, "foh a man to be low-down mean wifout makin' hisself tiresome tryin' to justify hisself."—Washington Star.

Kind Lady—"How long since you have done any work?" Tramp—"Pardon, me lady, but I'm rather sensitive about me age."—Boston Transcript.

"Your minister says such a long grace. I suppose you had a homily when he dined with you, Mrs. Jones?" "Oh, no; he doesn't eat it."—Baltimore American.

Lawyer—"I suppose you fellows are forever trying to produce artificial life?" Chemist—"Heaven forbid! We leave that to the white-light restaurateurs."—Buffalo Express.

"I saw some stock offered at one cent a share," said Mrs. Wombat. "Well?" "Would you invest?" "It's hard to tell about stocks. Some go up, others go down." "How can it go down at that price?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"When I was a boy," said Mr. Cumrox, "I used to get up at 5 o'clock every morning." "You were lucky," commented the youth who yawns. "If they'd had this daylight-saving arrangement you'd have been up at 4 without knowing it."—Washington Star.

A Bitter Cynic.

Jasse Lasky, the movie king, was condemning a scenario writer.

"His stuff is too cynical," Mr. Lasky said. "The great American public doesn't want cynical stuff. It wants clean, sweet, sentimental stuff.

"What good is this scenario writer's wit when it's cynical wit? I saw him meet a Canadian soldier with a wooden leg the other day.

"'Here I am,' the Canadian said, pounding his wooden leg proudly on the floor. 'I've braved the jaws of death for 20 months, and here I am.'

"'And I've braved the jaws of my wife for 20 years—so put it here! Shake!' said the cynical scenario writer."—Exchange.

A Bright Boy.

"What do you do when people come in here and bore you?" asked a friend of a merchant.

"When they stay too long, the office boy who is very bright and knows just when to interfere, tells me that a gentleman is in the counting office awaiting to see me on important business."

"Ha, ha! That's a capital way to get rid of the bores who don't know."

Just then the boy opened the door and sang out.

"Gent in the countin' office waitin' to see you on important business, sir."—Pearson's Weekly.

Reveille.

Mullens looked at his partner sharply when he arrived at the office.

"Man alive!" he said, anxiously, "you look rotten. What's up?"

"I feel rotten," said Collins, wearily. "I was blown out of bed at 5 o'clock this morning."

"What? Was there an air raid, then?"

"No. Somebody, curse him, brought the baby a trumpet yesterday."—Chicago News.

Queen of Qualities.

Amiability cannot atone for lack of force. Girls who are smiling and agreeable, but limp and inert in the presence of difficulties, do not command respect. The queen quality is force, and the other graces of character are handmaids in waiting. One who cannot hammer her way through difficulties falls below the measure of womanhood no matter how great her personal charm.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Pretty Compliment.

Willie had as a neighbor a larger boy named Robert, of whom he was fond. He would watch for Robert's return from school, as he knew he would play with him and amuse him. One day he was asked why he liked Robert so well and [illegible] "Robert is just like a papa to me."

Which kind are yours?

THERE are only two kinds of clothes, those that save and those that waste. If you buy wasteful clothes you are depriving the government of needed resources of material and labor.

If you want to save, insist on clothes of good quality; all-wool materials; reliable tailoring. One such suit can be made to do double service this year if you wear it carefully and keep it well pressed.

Our duty is to see that you get such clothes, and we know we can meet our obligations best by offering

First Fixed Ammunition.

It is to Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, whose reign began in 1611, that history gives credit for the invention of fixed ammunition. In his cartridges the bullets and the charge were united in a paper case. It was not, however, until 1850 that the first successful metallic cartridge was patented by an American.

Good Advice.

The man who doesn't worry when he ought to is as bad as the one who worries when he shouldn't. Worrying is bad for the health, but possibly not as bad as letting things drift. In case of rain, run for an umbrella, instead of saying: "Don't worry," the best advice to give a man is "Get busy."—Thrift Magazine.

Know Whortleberries?

Very few people, we suspect, have tasted whortleberries, and many do not know what they are. There is an excuse for their ignorance, as experts were long in doubt whether the fruit was the same as the bilberry; but now they are agreed that they are one. The Scots call them blaeberries on account of their color, which is a genuine blue, and so in the "Merry Wives" Pistol instructs the fairy to "pinch them blue as bilberry."

NEWS OF THE ST. MIHIEL DRIVE

First Hand Side Lights on the Drive Toward Metz From Kingston Boy.

Private Thomas P. Waye has furnished the following description of the fighting on his sector, in the smash which wiped out the St. Mihiel Salient, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Waye, corner Pearl and Wall streets:

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 13, 1918.

Dear Folks at Home:

Believe I will start this and write a little each day for the next four or five days, giving you a little real news, if the censor will pass it, on the big drive toward Metz. You will, no doubt, read about it tonight in the evening paper, and of the fall of Mt. Sec, Hill 308, something we have been looking at for seven months and supposed to be one of the best fortified places near Metz.

We built the roads here and feel mighty proud of our work, when we see the artillery, cavalry, trucks and infantry going over them at a rapid rate.

The big drive started at 1:10 a. m. yesterday and I happened to be near the big gun that started it. We were waiting for it and I was dozing off to sleep on a pack when it went off. It just jarred me from the side of the building and then let loose. I don't think there was a spot in the air where a fly would be safe between the lines. Fritz must have thought hell was let loose, for that big gun just sent bouquets at him all night long and when she went she shook everything.

Well, if I am going to make a dairy of this, I had better not write too much today. I will finish today's report tonight

In our sector it went something like this for Thursday:

Opened at 1:10 a. m. and up until last night, one day's move, we have advanced about eleven kilos or about eight miles, taken 4,000 prisoners and Mt. Sec. The front extends nearly forty miles, but haven't heard what they are doing elsewhere. No doubt you will hear before us, through the papers.

Friday night: We are still going good. Can you imagine it, tonight we have 20,000 prisoners and the infantry is only 15 kilometers from Metz? They went so fast that not even the artillery can catch them! Everybody is going up and we are not going to stop. I'll write more in the morning.

Saturday morning: You ought to see those Germans, all boys and old men. They seem to be scared and want to make friends with the American as soon as captured, for if we ask them for anything they usually give it. We ought to have Metz in a few days. It is the strongest fortified city in that part of Germany, or in any part I guess. They will undoubtedly make a strong resistance there as it is a walled city. However, if they will let the U. S. troops at them, we will get them sure.

I wouldn't be surprised to see peace by agreement this winter. The prisoners say, "Finish war, finish kaiser." The dough boys captured a brigadier general and his whole staff. We used them well and brought them in in Cadillac cars.

Oh, I could write a book now. My brain is crammed full of news, but will send the papers we get to help out.

Few days later: We engineers followed the dough boys right along, being the first ones in the town behind them. One of our officers has a medal. We are living high off those Germans. They had everything in their dugouts, which were built of concrete, some going sixty feet under ground. They had electric lights, feather beds, pianos, rocking chairs, etc., also a wonderful war garden. From it we got about a truck load of vegetables, such as onions, beets, cabbage, turnips, etc. We also brought in a piano, kaiser made, and I am limbering up my fingers on it; large mirrors, chairs and so on. There were wonderful experiences in No Man's Land. Those German hounds were settled there for four years and expected to stay for the duration of the war. Believe they would have if the Yanks hadn't stepped in for a round.

The refugees wanted to kiss us all, but they were not inviting after their long confinement. There were many pathetic scenes. One old French soldier met his aged mother. She had been in this confinement since 1914. Can you imagine it? It makes a fellow think of home, but that is all the good it does us—to think.

We had only about 350 casualties in our sector and only about 50 or 60 of those were dead. I mean Americans. Our prisoners are a happy lot and come singing down the road, "Finish war, finish kaiser."

The Red Cross is doing worlds of good. The K. of C. sells nothing but postage stamps and gives everything else away. The Salvation Army is always on the job. We do lots of night work. I work every other night; at present all night. Our drivers are stopped on the road and given hot coffee and cookies. The Red Cross nurses buy things for the boys from their own salaries, read to them and do everything for their comfort. I shall tell you a great deal when I get back.

Guess I will send this off now and write soon again. Best of love to all at home and sincerely hope all are well.

Your loving son,
TOM.

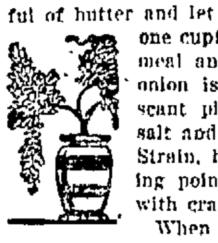
THE KITCHEN CABINET

And the plowman settles his share
More deep in the grudging clod:
For he saith, "The wheat is my care,
And the rest is the will of God."

FOOD FOR THE FAMILY.



Slice a large onion into one teaspoonful of butter and let it simmer. Add one cupful of cooked oatmeal and cook until the onion is tender. Add a scant pint of milk, and salt and pepper to taste. Strain, bring to the boiling point and serve hot with crackers.

When making celery soup always use the leaves to stew with a few stalks, as there is much flavor in them. Dried and pulverized, they make excellent seasoning for soups or meats.

Creole Rice.—Chop one large onion and a small slice of ham, very fine, put into a saucepan with one tablespoonful of butter and a cupful of cooked rice, a can of tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste. Mix well and put into a buttered baking dish to bake 15 minutes. Cover the top with buttered crumbs before putting into the oven.

Raisin Pie de Luxe.—Stew together a cupful of raisins, a quarter of a cupful of currants (dried), in a pint of apricot juice. Add three tablespoonfuls of butter, two egg yolks, a tablespoonful of lemon juice, and sugar to taste; cook until well blended. Put into a shell previously baked and cover with the whites of two eggs beaten stiff with three tablespoonfuls of sugar.

A tablespoonful or two of oil pickles chopped fine and used as a sandwich filling will be found most appetizing.

Emergency Soup.—Take a can of salmon, drain off the oil and rub the fish through a sieve. Add 1½ teaspoonfuls of salt to a quart of milk, stir in the fish and four tablespoonfuls of flour that has been blended with two tablespoonfuls of oil from the can; cook until smooth and serve with a dash of red pepper and a sprinkling of minced parsley on the top of each cup. Serve with toasted crackers.

Add a small green pepper finely chopped to any salad dressing; it improves the flavor.

Steel Plates.

"John," said Mrs. Jenkins, looking up from the evening paper, "you know how many dishes Kate has broken lately?" "Yes," said John, "what of it?" "Well," continued the lady, "there is something in the paper about the government and steel plates. I don't know just what they are, but I should think they might be indestructible."

STATE FARMERS MARKET REPORT

Following is a summary of conditions and prices prevailing in the New York city markets for the week ending November 2, as reported by the State Departments of Farms and Markets:

Fruits and Vegetables.

Potatoes.

Comparatively few shipments of potatoes have arrived on the market during the week. The market is rather weak and draggy but the prices have not changed materially. New York state potatoes brought from $2.23 to $2.14. Maines sold from $2.64 to $2.65. Michigans and Wisconsins sold for $2.40 to $2.56 per hundred. Long Islands still ruled high at $2.78 to $3.20. New Jersey Giants (long) moved at $2.40 to $2.45 per hundred. Virginia potatoes brought $2.14 to $2.65.

Cabbage.

New York state cabbage dropped several dollars and is now selling from $22 to $25 per ton. There is very little red cabbage on the market but what is here is selling at from $10 to $12 per hundred heads.

Cauliflower.

New York state cauliflower (Rochester) brought from $2.00 to $3.00 per crate of 12 to 16 heads. New York state cauliflower (Buffalo section) sold from $2 to $2.50 per crate of 12 heads. Long Islands, in crates of from 12 to 16 heads, sold from $2 to $3.50. In general, the cauliflower stock is good and the prices have increased with fairly easy sales.

Onions.

The onion market has not shown any change and a large supply of poor grade onions continues to keep the price down. New York state yellows bring from $1.25 to $1.75, which is the same as last week. New York state reds sold from $1.50 to $1.85, which is a little lower than last week. Number twos of both colors brought from 65 to 90c. All onions are sold by the hundred weight and delivered in sacks.

Celery.

Apparently the report last week that fancy bleached celery was in demand caused shippers to send a large supply to the market. This forced the market down to $2 to $2.50 per crate. A large supply of a poor quality is on the market and helps to keep the price of the good celery down.

Lettuce.

The lettuce market has also dropped 25 cents per crate with New York state lettuce bringing from $1 to $1.75 per crate of 24 heads. Only a fair grade is bringing $1 and the poor grades remain without being sold.

Apples.

The high prices for apples for the past few weeks have caused the shippers to send to the market for a larger supply of apples so that toward the end of the week the price dropped about $1 a barrel. The buyers are very independent now and sales are slow. The following prices are quoted on standard barrels of 3 bushels for Grade A fruit (2½ inches)

Mackintosh, $6 to $8; Kings, $4 to $5; Spy, $4 to $6; Pippin (20 oz.), $4.50 to $5.25; York, $4.75 to $5.25; Baldwin, $4 to $5; Greenings, $4.50 to 6; Hubbardsons, $3 to $4; Ben Davis, $3.50 to $4.

Pears.

New York state Sheldon pears brought from $5 to $8.50 per barrel. Keiffer pears sold for $2.75 to $4.75 per barrel. These prices are just a trifle higher than last week.

Quinces.

New York state quinces (orange variety) sold for $7.25 to $7.50 per barrel (3 bushels) and (apple variety) brought $2 to $2.25 per bushel basket. A large supply of quinces has caused the market to drop.

Grapes.

New York state Concords and Niagaras sold for $1.15 to $1.25 per 20 lb baskets. Both the demand and supply has fallen but the price has not been affected.

Chestnuts.

New York state chestnuts have almost doubled in price with a very active demand at $13 to $14 per bushel. The scarcity of chestnuts still continues but the prices have not changed.

Carrots.

Unwashed carrots brought $1.25 to $1.35 per hundred lb bag.

Beets.

New York state beets (tops trimmed off) sold for $1.75 to $2.25 per 125 lb bags.

The Live Stock Market.

Large quantities of all kinds of live stock were on hand Monday, October 28th. This resulted in a fall of prices.

Calves.

A slow market. New York state best calves 19 cents to 20 cents; mediums, 15 cents to 18 cents; commons, 10 cents to 15 cents; buttermilks, 6½ cents to 8 cents; yearlings, 4½ cents to 7 cents.

Hogs.

The hog market was fairly steady with New York state prime hogs bringing from 17 to 17¾ cents, and roughs 15 to 16 cents.

Bulls.

The demand for New York state bulls was poor, with a large supply on hand. Heavy bulls brought 7 to 8¾ cents and light ones 6 to 7 cents.

Cows.

Fat New York state cows on a stronger market sold for 6½ to 9c; mediums, 4½ to 7 cents, canners, 4 to 5 cents.

Lambs.

Strong market in prime New York state lambs, also in other grades. Primes sold for 16½ to 17 cents; mediums, 14 to 16 cents, commons, 10 to 12 cents.

Sheep.

New York state sheep fairly steady. Primes brought 9 to 11 cents, mediums, 7 to 9c, commons, 5 to 6 cents.

Live Poultry.

The market in live fowls and chickens was very slow. A large supply in the market brought prices down somewhat.

The following prices prevailed: Heavy fowls, 31 to 32 cents, leghorns, 29 to 30 cents; chickens, 26 to 28 cents; old roosters, 32 cents.

These are prices which the commissionmen in New York city obtained, and from which freight or expressage and the regular commission charges must be deducted.

The Hay Situation.

Large quantities of hay have been received all the week, so that the supply has been much greater than the demand. The government has not bought any hay this week, and it is the general opinion of the trade (Please note that this is only an opinion) that prices will continue to drop unless the government happens to step in and buy a large quantity of hay, thereby cutting down the supply on hand.

No. 1 timothy hay (containing no clover) brought from $35 to $36. No. 2 (containing one-eighth clover) ranged from $33 to $34. No. 3 (containing one-third clover) brought from $27 to $28. Fancy light clover mixed hay (containing one-fourth clover) sold for $33 to $34. Shipping hay which is not as good as No. 3 sold from $20 to $21 per ton. No. 1 rye straw sold for $20 to $21.

Telegraphic Service.

In addition to the weekly market news report issued by the Division of Foods and Markets, preparations are now complete to send as often as desired, whether it be once or twice daily or on any particular day, a telegram of ten words stating the market conditions of any fruit or vegetables. And grange, Dairymen's League, Farm Bureau Association, Farmers' Co-Operative Association or any group of farmers can secure this service by communicating with the New York city office at 90 West Broadway.

Aniline in a Pigment.

To detect the presence of aniline in a pigment a little of the color is laid upon a piece of letter paper, and a drop of spirit poured upon it. If the pigment contains an aniline dye, the paper will be colored right through by it, while a pure pigment will not alter the shade of the paper and will under no circumstances penetrate it. —Popular Science Monthly.

WARD BACKED UP WILSON STRONGLY

Lawyer, Who Is Now Field Clerk in France, Lauds Record of Republican Congressman.

Editor, The Kingston Daily Freeman,
Kingston, N. Y.

Will you not be good enough to let me say a few words in your paper in regard to the Republican nominee for congress, Charles B. Ward? For eight years I was in the employ of Mr. Ward, having started work with him when I was still in high school as local reporter on his newspaper and later becoming his secretary when he was first elected to congress in 1914. Since that time I have been admitted to the bar and write this independent of any association with Mr. Ward and entirely without his knowledge.

Remembering that the time is getting close when the people of my own congressional district will decide who their next congressman will be, I feel it no less than a duty to say a few words in respect to the candidacy of Mr. Ward. After a congressman has served his people for four years they know pretty well whether or not he is a safe and trustworthy man to represent them in congress. But they cannot form an opinion of the man and his work as one can who has been closely associated with him for several years. I have seen him in congress and out and I want to say here that I believe unquestionably in his absolute integrity and honesty. Personally, Mr. Ward is singularly plain and democratic. He is open and frank in his dealings; he tells the truth and is not the type of congressman who "jollies a man along." He makes very few promises, but when he makes one he means it. His home life to those who know him in his home recommends itself to those to whom a man's life at home with his family is one of the truest indications of his character.

I was in the hall of the house of representatives when Mr. Ward voted affirmatively on the resolution that a state of war existed between the United States and the Imperial Government of Germany. I talked with him only a few minutes after he had registered his vote and I know how deeply he felt the responsibility of speaking at that vital moment for the people of the 27th congressional district. From the first till the last he has invariably voted for straight Americanism. In international questions he has proven that to him his country was above his party. I feel certain that in all his war record no one can cite a single instance when he has not heartily and unfalteringly supported President Wilson. He voted for the selective draft and all other administration measures when in those early days of the war political considerations might have tempted to other paths men of less judgment and patriotism. His record is right on the war. I have been over here in France doing what I can behind Old Glory since August, 1917. I shall not attempt to speak for the hundreds of other boys over here from home nor do I want it understood that I impute anything but patriotism to any other candidate for congress, but as for myself, now while we are seeing this war through to a finish, I would, if I had the chance to vote, cast my ballot for the candidate for congress who, through one of the most crucial periods of our history, proved himself in official position, to be safe, sane and true to his country. Until the war is through let us stand pat straight through to the finish; stand by the president and stand by those who stood by him.

GEORGE H. LYNCH,
Army Field Clerk.
Amer. Ex. F., France.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, Nov. 4—The developments over Sunday indicating the close approach of peace were the sole factors in determining the price movement at the opening of today's stock market. Buying orders came in large volumes in all the stocks which have been placed in the peace group with many of the low priced railroads selling at the highest price touched since the beginning of the Allied drive. Steel industrials were in supply for a time during the early trading but later these stocks also reflected vigorously buying with Steel Common, after yielding ¼ to 100⅞, advanced to 101⅞. Southern Pacific attracted a good deal of attention because of the aggressive buying on which it rose 1⅞ to 104. Erie advanced ⅝ to 17¾ and Southern Railway to 31⅛. The widest movement as usual was in Mexican Petroleum, which rose 7 points to 165. Corn Products advanced ⅝ to 49⅞, a new high record. Marine Preferred rose 2⅛ to 122⅝ and gains ranging from 1 to 2 points were made generally in the other active issues.

Wittenberg, Nov. 2.—A tribute to the memory of Mrs. Madison H. Shultis. At this time our hearts are again saddened and we sincerely mourn the loss of Mrs. Madison Shultis, a friend and neighbor whom everyone loved and admired. She was a woman of sterling worth, always solicitous for every good work, always ready with her word of encouragement and cheer, ever mindful of others with so little thought of self, often waiting upon the needs of others when physically not able to do so. Liberal, broad-minded and with charity toward all, surely the Christian life of our departed friend is worthy of emulation. There was something about her personality, a look of peace, that made one forget the little things of earth that so often fret us, but lifted us up beyond and impressed one with nobler and better ideas of Christian living. Surely her trust was in Him who doeth all things well. A loving wife and mother has been taken from the home. To the sorrowing children is left the rich legacy of the precious memory of a mother who never counted anything done for them a sacrifice. Home to her was a center of great interest. Not alone there will she be missed but in the church of which was such a faithful member and in which to the very last she took such an active interest. So it is with the friends we love and cherish. They are precious jewels. God has only loaned them to us for a little while and when He calls for His own we should be comforted with the thought for them no more sorrow or pain. Our loss, their eternal gain. May they feel their loved one is not dead but enjoying life eternal, gone on just a little while before. She has lain aside the burdens of this life to be carried on by those that are left. The influence of such a life will long live in the life of her many friends. The funeral was held from her home Friday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Libby. The many beautiful floral tributes from the church and Sunday schoool, Willing Workers Society, Epworth League and friends gave silent testimony of love and sympathy.

Miss Eloise Arlett Myer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Myer of 666 Broadway, this city, died at her home on Saturday afternoon after a short illness. The news of Miss Myer's death will bring grief to the entire community, for she was closely identified with many homes in the city through her church work and her secretaryship of the Board of Education, which put her in touch with the high school students. Miss Myer's death was as truly that of a soldier serving their country as has been that of any man at the front, for she has given up her life as the result of her services in the recent epidemic. Though not at all strong, Miss Myer early enlisted to serve in the office of the emergency hospital at the armory, and when there was a shortage of help in one of the wards, Miss Myer cheerfully and generously offered to help there and her assistance was gladly accepted. She contracted the influenza and died from pneumonia following the influenza.

Miss Myer was a graduate of old Kingston Academy and for a number of years was president of the Alumni Association of K. A., presiding at the last meeting and banquet of that organization, before both academies were merged into the new high school. She was for years a devoted and active member of St. John's Episcopal Church, and the founder and head of the Dorcas Society, composed of young girls of the church, the organization being one of the most energetic in the church, within which circle of membership Miss Myer was especially popular with the young boys and girls.

For the past few years she has been the efficient secretary of the Board of Education, and through the medium of this position she actively interested herself in all of the social life of the boys and girls of the high school. Her circle of friends throughout the entire city was a large one and her death seems the more sad in that her life was at its prime, and she was the only child of her parents, and the inseparable companion of her mother. In their irreparable loss the entire community extends its deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Myer. The funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home on Broadway with the interment at Katrine cemetery.

Ode to a Kingston Suffragette.

Stern in the dignity of new born power she sits
While kneeling politicians strive to win her grace
The words of righteousness are on her lips
And all things evil read their finis in her face.

No more the graceless villians dare to hint of durance vile
Or with their feeding spoon profane those lovely lips
Conscious of guilt they fawning
smirk and smile
And trembling raise their guilty eyes to where she sits.

To Probe Auto Accident.

Coroner E. A. Kelly made an investigation today of the automobile tragedy of Sunday night which led to one man being killed and two others injured, and will probably hold an inquest to determine if they had been criminal negligence on the part of Robert Freer who drove the car in causing the death of Henry Carson.

CRAGAN WAS WITH REILLY.

Just Before Latter Entered Trenches For Last Time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Conlin have received the following letter from a comrade of James Reilly, who was killed in action in France, as told in The Freeman. Mr. Reilly's relatives here include two brothers, Thomas F. Reilly and William J. Reilly, and two sisters, Mrs. James E. Terwilliger and Mrs. Lawrence Conlin.

A picture of James Reilly will appear in a later issue of this paper:

Somewhere in France,
Sept. 6, 1918,

Dear Friend Lawrence and Wife:

No doubt you will be more than surprised to hear from me, but this little note is just one little thing that Jim asked me to do not long ago.

It is very hard indeed for me to break the news to you all at home, for I know it was a very hard blow ot me when I heard of it, and no doubt it will be a good deal harder to you all. Poor Jim was killed in action in September. We were all together just before we went in the line. I happened to be lucky and came out safe. Cole is O. K. and Schick is wounded, but getting along fine. I do not know if you will get this O. K. or not, but if you do just kindly let me know. Hoping this will reach you and that you will know just exactly what has become of Jim. May God bless him.

I am respectfully yours,
BERNARD T. CRAGAN.

STOLE SUNDAY BREAKFAST

Some Pesky Thief Removed George Van Loon's Meal From Ice Chest

Some pesky thief Saturday evening or early Sunday morning visited the ice chest at the residence of George Van Loon on West Pierpont street, and removed George's Sunday morning breakfast, as well as a number of other articles of food, such as butter, lard, pastry and a bottle of catsup. Mr. Van Loon is a good runner and if he could "catsup" up with the pesky thief he would tell him where a pork roast was that the thief could have had for Sunday dinner, but overlooked.
